COMMISSIONER MARTIN ANNOUNCES STAFF CHANGES

WASHINGTON, DC – Commissioner Kevin J. Martin today announced the addition of Jason Williams and Lori Alexiou to his staff. Mr. Williams will serve as the Commissioner’s Special Assistant while Ms. Alexiou will serve as his Confidential Assistant. “I am delighted to have both Jason and Lori join our office,” Martin said. “Jason brings additional real-world telecommunications experience to the office. I have had the privilege of working with Lori in the past and I look forward to her professionalism and great organizational skills.”

Mr. Williams joined the Commissioner’s staff after completing his second year of law school at the University of Montana School of Law. While in law school, Mr. Williams interned for Blackfoot Telephone Cooperative, Inc., where he assisted the general counsel with a wide variety of regulatory and legal issues. Before law school, Mr. Williams served as Manager, Regulatory Affairs at XO Communications. He also worked in the business development group at NeuStar, Inc. Mr. Williams received his B.A. in English from the University of Notre Dame.

Ms. Alexiou is responsible for managing the office as well as the Commissioner’s personal schedule and travel arrangements. Prior to joining the Commissioner’s staff, Ms. Alexiou was a legal secretary at the firm of Wiley Rein & Fielding, LLP.

Mr. Williams and Ms. Alexiou will resume their duties immediately.
